ZOOLOGIST CAMP

Do you want to be an animal scientist or just love to learn about the natural world? If you would like to engage in activities that involve wildlife, their habitats, natural history, research and conservation this is the camp for you. The first 2 days will be filled with fun activities at the Wilderness Station that explore our native wildlife and their needs. Then we will pack up and hit the road for the remainder of the week as we visit some of our most beautiful natural places in the state. We will meet several professionals in this line of work to find out all the ways you can contribute to and help our wildlife.

Wednesday through Friday we will travel and camp in and around the Cherokee National Forest as we focus on stream biodiversity and the amazing animals that live there. Transportation, camping gear, and meals while camping will be provided.
